

Date: 15/6/2022

Stander input and output

The stander input output is used to help us get some input from the user instead of entering everything's as a programmer , and it's different from a language to other , in darts we need to call darts:io library and then we can use `stdin.readLine Syc()` , this line is used to take from the user and to get the result out to the user we used print method or `stdout.write()` .

Code questions:

In repo: Click